

Tanya Nachia

Principal

Educated in the foundation year in Fine Arts at the prestigious St Martins College of Art and Design in London, England. Tanya completed her undergraduate degree in Interior Architecture focused on historical preservation at the Rhode Island School of Design, Providence, Rhode Island.

While still in college for her summer internships, she worked at the renowned office of Peter Marino Architects in New York City. Her projects there included the Chanel and Prada flagship stores in NYC, which have won numerous national and international Awards; and the conceptual development of the American Craft Museum, NYC.

Interested in making community impacts in a different realm of architecture, she joined the Hillier Group Architects, NYC for two years to work on the development of the new inpatient tower of Coney Island Hospital. Her architecture journey continued on her cross-coast move to Seattle, where she worked at Stuart Silk Architects on the design and construction of single family residences. Here she collaborated with clients and contractors, working on all details from the site plan to specification of kitchen details. Continuing in her architectural journey, she was recruited to the C4 design team in the retail division at Mulvanny G2 (MG2) Architecture. Here, her projects included Sur La Table and IPic Cinemas across the country. She earned two annual young employee awards on the way and her Sur La Table project also won a national design award.

Tanya earned her Masters in Architecture at the University of Washington's College of Built Environment specializing in sustainable systems. She graduated in Summer of 2017 and founded 3rd Eye Design Studio.
